Han Bin Yoon, Cello

Han Bin Yoon, Cello

Born in 1988, Han Bin displayed signs of exceptional musical talent early in childhood. Within less than a year of picking up the cello, he won his first competition and made solo appearances with the San Diego Youth Symphony.

Top prizewinner at numerous competitions, Han Bin most recently won the Second Prize at the 2013 Young Concert Artist International Auditions as well as the Third Prize and special award for the Best Performance of the Chinese Composition at the 1st International Schoenfeld Cello Competition in Hong Kong. In May 2011, he was awarded First Prize in the USC Thornton School of Music's Concerto Competition, and in December 2011, he won the school's Inaugural Performance and Presentation Award. Following these awards, Han Bin performed the Dvorak Cello Concerto with the Thornton Symphony, under the baton of maestro James Conlon, and gave a series of recitals, talks, and master classes throughout Southern California in 2012. In 2010, he won the Korean Honor Scholarship for exceptional musical talent. He has also received scholarship support from the Léni Fé Bland Foundation, Ruth Cole Weber Foundation, and the Pacific Palisades Westside Committee of the Los Angeles Philharmonic. During his four years at the New England Conservatory of Music (Bachelor of Music, 2010), he was awarded the Presidential Scholarship, the most prestigious scholarship bestowed by the NEC.

Han Bin Yoon has worked with such renowned cellists as Bernard Greenhouse, Frans Helmerson, Steven Isserlis, David Geringas, Anner Bylsma, Eleonore Schoenfeld and Paul Katz. He currently studies with Ralph Kirshbaum at the USC Thornton School of Music.
